SERBIA

Has Been Invaded by Large Forces Of Austrians And Germans

INVOLVING A LARGE BOUNDARY

Bulgaria Expected to Hurry Attack From the East

CAMPAIGN WAS EXPECTED

Army of French and British Troops Which Landed in Saloniki Expected to Assist in Meeting This New Onslaught — Invading Army is Undoubtedly a Large One.

(Associated Press Telegram) Berlin, Oct. 7.—(Via London.)—Large German and Austrian forces have invaded Serbia.

The Teutonic troops have crossed the Drina, Save and Danube rivers at many places, the war office announced today.

It is stated that the invading troops have established firm footholds upon the other banks of the river.

The German announcement indicates that the invading movement is in progress along a large part of the boundary between Austria and Serbia. The Danube forms the border from the Rumanian frontier to Belgrade, the Save from Belgrade to the northwestern corner of the country, and the Drina runs along the western boundary to a point not far north of the Montenegrin line.

The Teutonic invasion marks the beginning of the expected campaign against Serbia, and may precipitate the crisis in the Balkans which has been looked for. Recent developments have shown that Bulgaria was likely to co-operate with Germany and Austria by attacking Serbia from the east. An army of French and British troops has been landed at Saloniki, Greece, and sent to Serbia to assist in meeting the new attack.

The extent of the front over which these movements are in progress, virtually the whole Serbian north and west borders, indicates that a large Teutonic army is being employed.

The German plan of campaign is believed to be to force a way through Serbia and if either the assistance or passive neutrality of Bulgaria is obtained, to reach the sea of Marmora, and give assistance to the Turkish army.

FATAL WRECK; 50 KILLED ON MEXICAN ROAD

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 7.—All the passengers were killed in a train wreck on the Mexican railway between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, according to one message to the state department today. Another dispatch intimated fifty persons were killed and sixty injured. There were no foreigners injured, so far as known. The accident occurred on a steep grade near Maltrata last Tuesday.

State Closed Its Case In Trial of Indianapolis Mayor; Defense Begins Testimony

(Associated Press Telegram) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7.—The state closed its case in chief in the trial of Mayor Joseph S. Bell, charged with election conspiracy today. The defense was prepared to start introducing testimony immediately. Mayor Joseph S. Bell, took the stand in his own behalf as soon as the state rested its side of the case, and entered a general denial to the charge of conspiracy. He was questioned by M. A. Ryan, of counsel for the defense.

MARGARET WILSON TO GIVE MONEY EARNED TO COMMUNITY WORK.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 7.—Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, who will sing in concert at Buffalo, N. Y., October 12, Erie, Pa., October 15, and Cleveland, October 19, announced today that the money received from these appearances would go to the movement to promote the use of public schools as community centers. Miss Wilson believes school buildings should be "all year round clubhouses" for the whole people, and that such use of schools will create better citizens and bring about quicker assimilation of the immigrant population.

KING ORDERS NEW CABINET FORMED SOON

ALEXANDER ZAIMIS HAS ASSURED THE OPPOSITION OF REPRESENTATION

New Premier Will Assume the Duties of Foreign Minister Also at King's Request.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Oct. 7.—Alexander Zaimis has accepted King Constantine's invitation to form a new cabinet, according to a Reuter dispatch to Athens. He has assured leaders of the opposition that they will be allowed representation.

The list of new ministers probably will be presented for the king's approval within a few hours. Mr. Zaimis will combine the duties of foreign minister and those of premier, and it is expected his associates will include former Premiers, Plihalis, Dragoumis and Theotokis.

Alexander Zaimis who has accepted the task of forming a Greek coalition cabinet in succession to the Venizelos ministry has twice before held the office of prime minister. He is a nephew of the late Premier Theodore Delanyannis, who was assassinated by a professional gambler in June, 1905, and is the son of Thrasyloulos Zaimis, several times premier and one of the three members of the national deputations delegated to offer the crown of Greece to Prince George of Denmark, who reigned at Athens as King George and who was the father of Constantine, the present Hellenic ruler.

In 1906, M. Zaimis was appointed governor general of the island of Crete in succession to Prince George of Greece, uncle of King Constantine, and his active policy in that post met with the approval of the Greek people generally. Subsequently he assumed the governorship of the National Bank of Greece.

Greece's political crisis growing out of the question as to what course the Hellenes should take in the European war became acute in March of the present year. Then as now, King Constantine exerted all his influence to maintain the neutrality of his country. He opposed strongly the policy of M. Venizelos, who expressed a determination to live up to the terms of the Serbo-Greek alliance against Bulgaria, and the premier thereupon tendered his resignation. On retiring he advised the king to select as his new prime minister M. Zaimis who, he said, would follow a policy of neutrality which, he hoped, would not endanger the new territory acquired by Greece as a result of the Balkan wars.

M. Zaimis, who was ill at the time, declined, however, to accept the task of forming a cabinet and M. Venizelos was retained in office.

Names forged to messages to president

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 7.—Among telegrams of praise and criticism received at the White House today in connection with the President's announcement yesterday that he would vote for woman suffrage in New Jersey, October 19, several of the protests are believed to bear forged signatures.

Secretary Tumulty sent acknowledgments to the senders of all messages. He received replies from several persons whose names were signed to the telegrams, saying they had sent no messages. Three of these came from Trenton, N. J.

Harry Vogelmeier and Tony Pert are in attendance at the Coshocton county fair today.

HOW SERBIA'S FOES AND FRIENDS MOVE TO ATTACK AND DEFENSE

This map shows the most important strategic point in Serbia, the railroad from Belgrade through Nish and Uskub, to Salonika, as well as other points—the mountains and river valleys, over which an Austrian and German attack must pass, the point near Tern, where a Bulgarian attack in force might cut the railroad, and the avenues by which reinforcements may reach the Serbs, if caught between two fires—Austrian and German on one side and Bulgarian on the other.

President Wilson Will Marry Again; Mrs. Norman Galt, a Charming Widow, Is to Be "First Lady," In December

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, whose engagement was announced last night, at the White House will be married probably the first week in December. The ceremony will be private only a few close friends being invited, and will take place at the home of the bride on New Hampshire avenue near Dupont Circle.

Plans for the honeymoon have not yet been completed, but it was indicated today that the trip might include a visit to the San Diego exposition.

For the third time in American history, a president of the United States will take a bride. In choosing to have the ceremony performed at her house, not in the White House, Mr. Wilson follows a precedent set by President Tyler, who was married in New York, in the church of the Ascension. President Cleveland, the only other chief executive to be married while in office, was married in the White House.

President Wilson and Mrs. Galt will make their first appearance together in public since the announcement of their engagement, tomorrow in New York, where they go to a house party given by the president's close friend and unofficial adviser, Col. E. M. House. Tomorrow evening they will attend a theatre party in New York and the next day, on the return toward Washington, will see the second game of the world's baseball championship series at Philadelphia. The party will include Col. and Mrs. House, Mrs. Galt's mother, Mrs. Bolling; Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, the president's cousin; Secretary Tumulty and the president's personal physician and naval aide, Dr. Grayson.

Early today a messenger carried a great bouquet from the White House conservatory to Mrs. Galt's home in a portion of the residence district known as The Hub of the social section, the scene of many brilliant affairs in national society. Mrs. Galt, herself besieged by friends, coming to offer congratulations and interviews, denied herself to all but her closest friends and declined to add anything to the simple announcement formally issued at the White House, saying only that she and the president of the United States were to be married. Tomorrow's party given by Colonel House, will be only the first of many events which are being planned for the presidential party before the time of the wedding. Invitations and congratulations began pouring into the White House offices today in such volume, that as on previous occasions when the White House had a wedding on hand, a special staff of clerks was prepared for assignment to social work only for the next two months.

Colonel House, who knew of the president's coming engagement, with a few other intimates long before the news was permitted to reach the public, planned his house party some time ago. Other friends are planning pre-nuptial affairs and the White House which no more than a year has been observing a position of mourning, will begin to take on its old aspect of social activities, and again become a center for many of the best kind of people in the American social circles.

The time of the wedding, coming probably almost at the opening of congress and the return of the diplomatic corps to the capital, from the summer embassies will signalize the full swing of the Washington social season which now will include the usual state dinners and receptions in the executive mansion.

President Wilson went to his desk early today as usual and was greeted with congratulations by the White House staff and callers, who began arriving immediately.

He received congratulations with smiles and words of thanks, and evidently was a happy man.

His first caller was Assistant Secretary Phillips, of the State department. Secretary Lansing followed and then Senator Sausbury, of Delaware. All the members of the cabinet sent their congratulations early in the day and some of them called later.

The fact that the president of the United States, on whom the eyes of the world have frequently been focused in the last few months of the European war, had decided to marry again, gave the national capital a topic of absorbing interest, for the moment, overshadowed all questions of international or domestic politics.

CRITICISM
OF BRITISH DIPLOMACY, SHARP AND PLAIN, BY LONDON NEWSPAPER

Outwitted by King Ferdinand, and Situation Demands That Government Breaks Silence.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Oct. 7.—The Times says editorially today: "By over-riding the policy of his advisers, the king of Greece has added materially to the gravity of the situation in Europe. That much is certain, although the consequences of the new position he has created cannot yet be foreseen."

The news came as a surprise to all but a few intimate friends who knew that the friendship of the president for Mrs. Galt had developed into an intimacy that presaged marriage. That Mrs. Galt had become a companion of the president was known however, in official and social circles, because she appeared frequently with him not only on motor rides, but at baseball games. Close friends who watched the friendship develop, expressed today their pleasure at its culmination not only because of the personal happiness of the president, but because it meant a change from a life of loneliness and unvaried occupation to an atmosphere of helpful companionship.

His incessant labor alone in the White House during the period of mourning had affected his spirits. When he began to take a renewed interest in personal affairs, his friends noted immediately a change for the better in his health and the energies with which he attacked tremendous problems before him.

Mrs. Galt is regarded as a woman of rare beauty and charm. Those who have known her best, predicted today that she would be as the first lady of the land, a popular hostess as well as a comfort and support to the president in his daily work.

Mrs. Galt is about 38 years of age, youthful in appearance and simple in her tastes. She is the widow of a well known businessman of Washington who died eight years ago.

She was married in 1896. Before that she was Miss Edith Bolling of Wuterville, Va. Her father was Wm. H. Bolling a lawyer of distinction.

In the circle of cultivated people with whom she mingled in Washington, Mrs. Galt has always been sought out for her unusual charm. Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's eldest daughter, and her cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, first brought Mrs. Galt into the White House circles. They met her in the early fall of last year and were so much attracted by her, that they sought her out more and more frequently and the friendship between them rapidly ripened into an affectionate intimacy. It was through this intimacy of his daughter and cousin that the president had an opportunity to meet and know Mrs. Galt. Not until this summer, however, when Miss Bones as a house guest, did the president and Mrs. Galt become intimate friends.

Just when the wedding will take place and whether it will be in the White House or in the bride-elect's home has not been decided but the probabilities are that the ceremony will be within a few weeks at the residence of Mrs. Galt and that it will be private.

FREE DISTRIBUTION OF AN INTERESTING NEW OHIO HISTORY.

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Oct. 7.—A new political and social history of Ohio, prepared in manual form with questions and answers, made its appearance today the product of J. W. Tannehill, statistician of the state auditor's office. It was published at state expense and will be distributed free to public schools, colleges and other institutions or persons who care for it. Each subject is treated briefly, in the form of an answer to a question. Purely technical material appears to have been avoided.

NOTES SENT TO BULGARIA MADE PUBLIC

ENTENTE ALLIES INSISTED THAT BULGARIA BREAK WITH CENTRAL POWERS

Within 24 Hours, or Diplomatic Relations Would be Severed—British Note Verbal.

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Oct. 7.—The circumstances which attended presentation of the notes of the entente powers to Bulgaria are set forth in an official communication received here today from Sofia. This announcement filed in Sofia by the correspondent of the Havas News Agency on Tuesday and delayed in transmission, was issued by the Bulgarian government before it made reply to the notes. The statement follows:

"On Monday, before four and six o'clock in the afternoon the president of the council received a visit from the representatives of France, Russia and Great Britain. The first two presented notes, not identical of the character of ultimatum, in which giving a forced interpretation of the armed neutrality proclaimed by Bulgaria and of the object of Bulgaria's mobilization, it was insisted, under threats of the rupture of diplomatic relations that Bulgaria break off openly within 24 hours its relations with the central powers and send away the German and Austrian officers said to be among the staffs of the different Bulgarian armies."

"The representative of Great Britain presented a verbal note declaring that Great Britain would break with Bulgaria if hostilities should occur in the Balkans as the result of Bulgarian mobilization."

"In consequence of the absence of instructions, the representative of Italy has not yet joined his colleagues in this action."

"The Bulgarian government today will hand to the representatives three notes not identical in which it will explain the spirit of armed neutrality of Bulgaria, while pointing out the danger that may arise from fresh encouragement given to Serbia. Rejecting categorically the accusation relative to the pretended presence of German and Austrian officers in the Bulgarian army it will declare that it cannot drive away officers who do not exist."

"At the same time the government will present a response to two preceding notes of the entente powers, of which the representatives have been advised through the French minister."

"The Bulgarian government purposes to publish a green book on the conversations and negotiations with the powers of the quadruple entente."

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kuster and Mr. Ralph Brumbach motored to Columbus this afternoon in the Kuster machine.

New Plan of Picketing Is Adopted by Machinists On Strike In Cincinnati

(Associated Press Telegram) Cincinnati, Oct. 7.—More than 700 striking machinists gathered today at a mass meeting at which their forces were mobilized and a plan of future action was outlined. The strikers came into the hall in such numbers that all could not be accommodated and an over-flow meeting was arranged for tomorrow morning. The men were urged to carry on their campaign in an orderly manner. The new form of picket duty known as "preconcerted walks" in which the strikers appear about the shops in large numbers and after an investigation disappear was explained. This plan of picketing will be adopted instead of the old way where men were stationed at various points to challenge strike-breakers. No additional strikes were reported today.

MOMENTARY

Expectation that Bulgaria Will Actively Participate in War

DIPLOMATIC RELATION SEVERED

With the Entente Allies Who Sent Ultimata

BATTLES EAST AND WEST

That are Expected to Bring About Decisive Results Being Fought at Dvinsk and Champagne—Russians are Delivering Hard Blows Though Sorely Pressed.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Oct. 7.—The allies having broken off diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, news is momentarily expected of that nation's active participation in the war on the side of the central powers. Her king and the late leader of her government being at odds, Greece is forming a coalition cabinet, pending the construction of which her policy will be obscure. There are no misgivings in England, however, that she will co-operate in any way with Bulgaria. The cabinet crisis has in no manner impeded the landing of allied troops at Saloniki, and the fact that these forces are on Greek soil is considered the best guarantee that Greece ultimately must align herself with the entente powers, with which Premier-elect Zaimis is in sympathy. Champagne in the west and Dvinsk in the east are now the scenes of the struggles most likely to bring decisive results. The Germans are still engaged in concentrating against Dvinsk, evidently bent on a supreme effort to take the city. The Russians, however, are delivering hard blows all along the line and the British and French press profess to see a general Russian "recovery," for which the activities of the allies in the west are given credit.

Capture by the French of the village and hill of Tahure is a success of considerable local importance. The hill, although less than 200 feet high, was one of the most important German positions in that sector.

On most of the remainder of the French front, there is still in progress the violent cannonading which usually precedes infantry attacks.

BRITISH VESSEL REPORTS ATTACK BY AN UNKNOWN

(Associated Press Telegram) Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 7.—The British freight steamer San Melito arrived here today from Tuxpan, Mexico, and reported that she had been attacked at sea by an unknown vessel.

The captain of the San Melito reported that soon after leaving Tuxpan, his vessel was attacked in the night, and that eight projectiles exploded against her sides. One sailor was killed and six were wounded. The vessel was damaged but managed to escape.

Since the internment of the last of the German auxiliary cruisers at Newport News, there have been no reports indicating the presence of German war craft in the Atlantic.

TREATY WITH U. S.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Oct. 7.—The Haitian Chamber of Deputies has ratified the new treaty with the United States by a vote of 75 to 6 and awaits action by the upper house according to advice today from Rear Admiral Caperton.

Navy department advises said real conditions were quiet and disarmament proceeding.

Your suffering will stop at once like magic.

I Am Free—You Can Be Free

My catarrh was filthy and loathsome. It made me ill. It dulled my mind. It undermined my health and was weakening my will. The hawking, coughing, spitting made me obnoxious to all, and my foul breath and disgusting habits made even my loved ones avoid me secretly. My delight in life was dulled and my faculties impaired. I knew that in time it would bring me to an untimely grave, because every moment of the day and night it was slowly yet surely sapping my vitality. But I found a cure, and I am ready to tell you about it FREE. Write me promptly.

RISK JUST ONE CENT

Send no money. Just your name and address on a postal card. "Dear Sam Katz: Please tell me how you cured your catarrh and how I can cure mine." That's all you need to say. I will understand and I will write to you with complete information. FREE, at once. Do not delay. Send postal card and write me a letter today. Don't think of turning this page until you have asked for this wonderful treatment that can do for you what it has done for me.

PETER MACK BEATS HIS BEST RECORD 7 MINS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—The trotting of the classic Transylvania stake of the all-aged championship event of the season, was expected to bring one of the largest crowds of the present Grand Circuit meeting to the Kentucky Trotting horse breeders' track today.

Some of the greatest stars of the season were named to start in the Transylvania. They included Lee Axworthy, Peter Scott, Margaret Drulen, Etawah, Lizzie Brown, Peter McCormick and Worthy Prince.

Another attraction was the pacing futurity for three-year-olds which had as eligible starters the champion three-year-old pacing stallion General Todd, Miss Harris M., Sam Thought, Dorothy Detorest and others.

The other events on the card were the Tennessee Free-for-all pace and 2:09 class pace, both of which were unfinished yesterday, and a 2:07 class trot and 2:12 class pace.

Volga, the Pastime Stable's Peter the Great-Nervolo Bill fully won the Kentucky Futurity for 2-year-old trotters, the chief attraction of the Grand Circuit meeting here today, in straight heats, and set a new world's record for 2-year-old fillies for two heats. She trotted the first mile in 2:07 3-4, which equaled the world's record for 2-year-old fillies made by Native Belle in 1909 and finished the second round in 2:09 3-4.

The Tennessee Stake for free-for-all pacers was unfinished after four heats. Napoleon Direct, driven by Geers, won the first heat easily, but was pushed to a drive in the second by Braden Direct. In the third heat he broke badly, turning into the stretch, but came near winning when Geers brought him to the front after a wide turn, Peter Stevens taking the heat by a nose. The veteran driver was wildly cheered, as many believed he had won the heat and race. In the fourth round a wheel of Geer's sulky caught behind that of Egan, driving Braden Direct, and the sulky of the latter was upset in front of the judges stand. Egan was unhurt. Whitehead was fined $100 for laying up in the first heat. He finished fifth with Flower Direct in each heat.

The first mishap of the meeting took place in the second heat of the 2:09 pace, when Elmer Dickson, an added starter, fell at the seven-eighths post and Bingen Pointer and Fern Hal drove into him. Snow, MacPherson and Overeen suffering only a severe shaking up. The horses were not injured except Elmer Dickson, which was drawn by permission of the judges. After four heats the race went until tomorrow, a different horse winning in each.

Savoy made a straight heat race of the 2:20 pace, unfinished yesterday, by winning the third heat from Peter Worthy, who took second money.

In the 2:21 class trot, Ames Albingen, well driven by McDonald, won a straight heat victory over Judge Jones, piloted by "Pop" Geers. Because of interference at the far turn Kathryn Collette, Sarah Douglass, Durin and Harry Porter were distanced in the second heat, but were allowed to start in the third.

In an effort to beat 2:10 1-2, his 1914 record, Peter Mack, a 5-year old stallion by Peter the Great, out of Lillian R. 2:04 1-4, trotted in 2:03 1-2. The horse was driven by his breeder and owner, Captain David Shaw of Cleveland, O., who was given an ovation on his return to the stand.

Geers drove Etawah to beat 2:03, but succeeded only in tying the mark. It being the third mile he has trotted this season in 2:03.

Murphy drove Benville to beat 2:18 1-4, going the mile in 2:10.

WILL DEFEND OUTER GARDEN FOR PHILS IN WORLD'S SERIES

Left to right: Paskert, Cravath, Whitted.

Statistics don't help much in doping out the world's series, but with Cravath in the right field trenches, Paskert ready to capture anything that may wander out to center, and Whitted holding down the left field territory, it looks as if the Phillies will be able to make almost as good a showing in the outer garden as the famous Red Sox outfield in the world's series.

PHILLIES WEAR SWEATERS FOR FIRST PRACTICE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—With the first game of the world's series only 24 hours off, betting was not as brisk as was to be expected for such an important sporting event. At one headquarters where many substantial wagers are made on the world's series every year, Boston money was lying idle waiting for takers at the even odds on the result of the series.

Philadelphia supporters were holding out for six to five or better. Some bets were made at three to two that the Philadelphia would win the first game if Alexander pitches.

The weather early today was cloudy and the northeast wind made the air raw which compelled the Phillies to start their practice wearing sweaters.

Despite the unfavorable weather and the soggy ground, from recent rains, Manager Moran planned morning and afternoon practice for all the players. Many tips have come to Moran on the style of play of the Boston Red Sox and part of the time today was spent in practicing defensive plays with men on the bases. In addition there was the usual school hour in the club house which Moran conducted during the season and which was of benefit to the team in landing the National League pennant.

The question whether Bill Killefer will get into the series was still in doubt today, that is, as far as the general public was concerned. His lame arm was again examined by a New York expert yesterday. If Killefer cannot go behind the bat tomorrow Moran will be compelled to send in Burns.

What difference this will make in the pitching of Alexander is hard to tell. The great twirler has been used to have Killefer receiving, but Burns has worked well with the Nebraska in the few games that he has caught him.

The Boston Red Sox who end the American League season in New York today will arrive here late tonight, and will in consequence have little time for final practice. The team, however, is reported in good trim with little need of further preparation.

Manager Moran has invited Manager Carrigan to use the Phillies playing field whenever he wants to. The American League titleholders may look over the grounds for a little while tomorrow morning, and then go to Shibe Park, the home of the Athletics five blocks away for a real final workout.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

WERE SENTENCED TO REFORMATORY; GET SUSPENSION

In the cases of the State of Ohio vs. Leland Crow and James Hunter, indicted for grand larceny and burglary in the stealing of an automobile, the defendants appeared in Common Pleas court and pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny, and the indictment as to burglary was nolleed. The defendants were sentenced to the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield. The court suspended the execution of the sentence under the Ohio probation law.

Dr. Hunt Discovers Method that Kills Corns by Penetration. ONLY 10c.

That old corn, that stubborn corn, that soft corn, that sore corn, the corn that will come back, you can now get rid of it once and for all, for Dr. Hunt of Sidney, Ohio, has discovered the scientific principle that makes corns go easily and painlessly.

Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure does its work by penetration. That is Nature's own way. Goes to the very root of the corn. Corn lifts out, root, body and branch in two days. No paring. No dangerous caustic ingredients. No liquids to dry out. No bulky pads or greasy salves. Dr. Hunt's New Corn Cure comes in ready-to-apply plaster form. Trim plaster exact size of corn and apply. More than two applications are seldom necessary for the most stubborn case. Your corn eases up at once. The soothing penetrating ingredient works without discomfort. In two days you have no corn. This is a doctor's discovery. The result of life-time study.

And a box-full costs you only ten cents. Guaranteed or money refunded. Sold by all druggists and shoe dealers. Or, send ten cents in stamps to American Chemical Company, Sidney, Ohio.

ANOTHER STORM FROM W. INDIES HEADED NORTH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Oct. 7.—Another West Indian storm, headed apparently for the American coast was reported today in the Gulf of Mexico. Storm warnings were ordered displayed on the Gulf coast from Mobile to Cedar Key, Fla.

The first report of the storm came in a radiogram from a vessel in the middle of the Gulf which said it was a well defined disturbance.

The weather bureau is seeking further information from steamships in the Gulf. The usual course of West Indian disturbance prevalent at this season is northward, some times veering westward toward the Texas and Louisiana coasts—the course of the two other big storms this year—and some times eastward after striking the coast. The probable course of the present storm could not be determined by the weather bureau officials today from the meagre information at hand.

JOHN L. REDEEMS DIAMOND BELT HE PAWNED FOR LOAN

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The famous championship diamond belt, presented to John L. Sullivan by admiring friends in 1887, and later left by him in Chicago as security for a $4,000 loan, is again in the possession of the veteran heavyweight pugilist, it became known today.

Sullivan redeemed it from a jewelry firm yesterday, paying $5,300. The celebrated trophy is made up of 350 diamonds, and fourteen pounds of gold. The former champion regarded the belt as his most cherished possession until shortly after he was defeated by Corbett in New Orleans, in 1892.

OUTFIELDERS OF TWO CLUBS TO BE FACTORS

IN WORLD'S SERIES WORTHY OF
CAREFUL CONSIDERATION
BY THE EXPERTS

Red Sox seem to have slight advantage in batting and Phillies in fielding.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Sept. 7.—The outfielders of the Red Sox and the Phillies are expected to play roles of unusual importance in the coming World's Series between the Boston Americans and the Philadelphia Nationals. No other department of the rival teams can show the collection of stars that will be found among the eight players who are available for places in the outer gardens. Mention need only be made of Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper for the Carrigan forces and Cactus Garry Cravath, Pat Moran's home run slugger, in order to establish the high standard of these two outfielders.

As to which is the stronger in all-around offensive and defensive play there is much argument but such advantage as may exist is generally conceded to the Red Sox. Each club has a regular fielding trio and one utility player, the line-up being as follows: Boston: Hooper, right field; Speaker, center field; Lewis, left field, and Henriksen, utility fielder. Philadelphia: Cravath, right field; Puskert, center field; Whitted, left field, and Becker, utility fielder.

Eliminating the two utility fielders and considering the outfield as units, the unofficial averages for the season show that Boston has a twenty-point advantage in batting strength, while the Philadelphia trio is five points stronger in fielding. The Red Sox combination is also shown to be faster on the paths since it is credited with having stolen fifty-four bases to the Phillies forty-three. In extra base hits the winners of the American League pennant outclass the senior league flag bearers in ability to drive out two and three base hits but fall behind the Phillies in home runs, due in great part to the terrific slugging of Cravath on his home grounds.

Considered individually the outstanding strength of the Red Sox outfield is made more apparent. In right field Hooper will be opposed by Cravath and in the records the former has the advantage of stolen bases, sacrifice hits and fielding, while the Phillies' player outshines the Red Sox fielder as a batter. The fielding averages of the pair are: Hooper, .974; Cravath, .958, while the batting ability of the two fielders in indi-

calated by Cravath's average of .277 as against Hooper's .242.

At center Tris Speaker has the better of Dode Puskert in batting, fielding and base stealing. Speaker has hit .323 during the league season, scoring 24 two-baggers, 12 three-baggers, 17 sacrifice hits, 28 stolen bases and 106 runs in 530 times at bat. Puskert in 290 times at bat scored 70 hits, 41 runs, 9 stolen bases, 25 sacrifice hits, 14 doubles, 3 triples and a like number of home runs, giving him an average of .242. In fielding the difference is not so marked for Puskert fielded .970 to Speaker's .975.

Speaker's ability cannot be expressed entirely by figures for in his seeming division of the course of fly balls lies a source of much dependence by the Red Sox in their plans to check the powerful offense of the Phillies. His ability to sense the dropping place of a far hit ball, and to be there when it falls, is expected to reduce greatly the efficiency of the long driving bats of the Phillies' sluggers. Little, if any, behind Speaker in this respect is Hooper, whose saving catches in the World's Series of 1912 are still fresh in the memory of the fans.

Lewis in left field, possesses this same keenness and speed but he will not outclass Whitted, of the Moran brigade, by any means. In fact the season's averages give the Philadelphia representative the better on Lewis in fielding by 35 points, while the batting advantage of the Red Sox player is but 14 points. Lewis pined out more extra base hits than Whitted but the latter was faster on the bases by a considerable margin. The latter is also steadier in the field, although lacking the ability to make the spectacular catches with which Lewis electrifies the fans, from time to time.

Of the two utility outfielders Becker is the better hitter by more than 30 points, while Henriksen has a very slight margin in fielding. The former has figured in almost twice as many games this season as the Red Sox fielder and, next to Cravath, holds the Phillies' record as a home hitter. In lengthy drives and speed on the base paths Becker is superior to Henriksen but the latter is surer in the handling of the fly balls and throws more accurately to the infield.

Due allowance must be made, however, for the fact that these outfielders have played their home games in parks of widely different dimensions. Many of the extra base hits, especially some of the home runs of Cravath, would have been likely outs if made on a field of the size of the Boston Braves' Park, where a portion of the coming World's Series is to be played. With a trio of the ability of Hooper, Speaker and Lewis on guard, this is a factor that must not be overlooked. Conversely, some of the two and three base drives of these same players might have gone for home runs had they been made on a short field such as the Phillies have played their home games on this year.

The complete batting and fielding averages of the outfielders are appended:

The Newark team will have its regular line and back field on duty for this game and will go into the contest with the realization of the fact that the result is not a foregone conclusion. The attendance in these games is good, the field is in fine shape and an interesting brand of football is being played. The marvelous forward passing of Orr and Davis is well worth seeing if there were no other plays executed.

Grover Cleveland Alexander.

The burning question of the day is: "Can Boston beat Alexander?" If they can the Carrigans ought to have little difficulty in winning the big purple and gold banner emblematic of world's supremacy. No member of the Boston staff has piled up any such record of successful achievement as that made by Alexander this season.

FIRST TICKETS FOR BIG SERIES SECURED TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Thousands of baseball fans in this city rushed eagerly for their early morning mail today to learn whether they had been fortunate enough to secure reservations for the world's championship games between the Philadelphia National league champions and the Boston American titleholders. Those who had taken the precaution to write the management last week and were modest in their requests were 25,000 seats for each of these games.

Under the system which has been in effect at world's series games here in recent years applicants will present their notifications and money at the box offices and receive the tickets. All reservations not called for by six o'clock in the evening of the day preceding the first game in this city will be disposed of at public sale to start at nine o'clock on the morning of the game.

The movement of Red Sox supporters to Philadelphia, began today for the 7600 seats in that section which was begun yesterday by several men and boys, was augmented during the night and early today by several scores of eager fans and numerous small boys who hope to sell their places in line to an advantage.

Former Governor Tener, president of the National league, today expressed satisfaction with the plans of the Philadelphia management for the distribution of the reserved tickets and declared he believed more of the patrons of the game had been given a chance to purchase seats than at any previous series of the kind in this city. The idea of selling directly to patrons who had ordered by mail, he said, would minimize the possibility of the tickets getting into the hands of speculators.

Manager Moran plans to put his men through a stiff workout today. They were ordered to report at the

The prisoners at Sing Sing want a bank. Probably it would give them
valuable practice breaking into it.

So far as heard from there is more
demand on the part of the October
brides for etiquette books than for cook-books.

"Stunning simplicity" is said to characterize the new millinery. The stunning end comes in when the Old Man gets the bill.

Thrift is being taught in public schools in many places. It appeals to the children, as the only way to acquire funds for candy.

What is going to become of the unemployed this winter, when there are so many of them that no longer can get jobs as dancing teachers?

A good many people think a woman can't drive an automobile properly, but no doubt is expressed about
her ability to operate the cook-stove.

A large number of people have decided to observe strict neutrality by
not buying any of the Anglo-French bonds. Incidentally they haven't got any money.

It is hoped the United States does not get drawn into the war, as it would have to pay pensions to all who got gold standing out watching the bulletin boards.

Burning leaves is an essential item
in the fall garden work, but it is not absolutely necessary to pick out an hour when your neighbors have clothes hanging out.

The political platform now being promulgated in the states having elections are as usual a rehearsal of things the parties would do provided
they weren't in power.

There is a good deal of jolly-
ing about the prominence of football
in the colleges, but no student is known to have been conditioned because he made a fumble.

They are making 3,000,000 pairs

The man who delivers those long orations at the grocery store on the subject of preparedness, may be the
one whose wife is reproaching him
for not having acquired any fuel supply for next winter.

Fortunes Made in Speculation.

Golden tales of fortunes made in war stock are spreading far and wide. They are read with avidity in many humble homes. The story of the man who put up $180 on one
stock for his baby, and now has $364,000, will go far. Clerks, teachers, servant girls, and widows, are
itching to try their luck.

A woman whose husband made a
pot of money in such a way was urging her neighbors to try some of these long chances. "If we hadn't done it, where would we be now?"
was her philosophy. Perhaps it will be like "Bell telephones" has been an argument that has persuaded many

people to take long chances on mining prospects, tropical plantations and undeveloped inventions. The story of the war stocks of 1915 will similarly incite people to risky speculation for many years.

Every case where a fortune is acquired in speculative stocks is trumpeted in the newspapers. For every one of these, there are scores
who drop little hoards and keep still about it. It is bad enough to lose
without having people know about
your folly.

In a speculative investment on the stock exchange, the cards are stacked against the outsider. If he is to make much money he must put up
his savings on a narrow margin.
Fluctuations are wide, and the margin may be wiped out even on an advancing market.

Besides a lot of these speculative propositions, the "war stocks" are comparatively sound. But even these are very dangerous, except for those who can afford to lose. They have already reached high levels.

It is history that wars end sooner than people expect. Every one will remember how suddenly the Russo-Japanese war collapsed. Kings and captains may bluff, but in the back
offices the financiers are figuring.
They know when they are licked before the enemy does. When that day comes, and it will come sooner than
some expect, look out for the war
stocks. Europe will then buy its munitions at home, to help its own impoverished people.

Kindness Not Dead.

The exchange editor of a large
newspaper, who has the reading of a great number of publications, says he is convinced that kindness is not dead. He constantly finds in the country correspondence stories of help extended to people who have had hard luck. If a man has a fire or an illness or other trouble, the neighbors have a "bee." They harvest
some crop, supply him with fuel, or perform some waiting task.

In city life the people of ten-
ement districts will give up their last
dollar to help a neighbor in misfortune.

It is in town life, among people of easy circumstances, that there is the least visible charity. This is partly because there are few obvious happenings to stir sympathy. But the fact that a person and his neighbors
are living in plenty should not obscure the plight of others. There are always those who need help, who are easily enough found by charitably
disposed persons.

The President's Heart.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)
It was to be expected of President
Wilson that, when he should address
the veterans of the Civil War as he did Tuesday in Washington, on the occasion of the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, that he should praise their war-time
patriotism and courage, and indicate
the enduring value of their achievements. This has been a general performance oratorical service of many years.

But the President did much more than this. He disclosed new angles of thought and sentiment touching our
great civil conflict and its results,
and he suggestively pointed out to
these gray-haired veterans that many inspiring things of which they had
not dreamed when battles were engaging their lives and their valor
have developed from their service for
the spiritual and physical benefit and enrichment of the Nation. He made these aged patriots feel, as probably never before, how very much they have done for their country and how profoundly the sentiment of popular gratitude therefor reaches throughout the Nation. His generous words in behalf of the South will evoke no
spirit or hostile criticism anywhere.
The striking note of the address

was that of deep appreciation and
sympathy, and it was therefore no
wonder, when the President of the United States, watched these worn
and weary men in blue, the feeble and decrepit remnants of the vast Union
armies of 55 years ago, marching
along Pennsylvania avenue with proud
meim, but halting and hesitating
steps, that the tears of affectionate
compassion and regard should roll down his cheeks. Mr. Wilson has a great heart for the American people
and especially for the old soldiers.

Americanism.

(Milwaukee Journal.)
There is one subject on which Governor Phillip can talk and does talk ably and patriotically. The words in which he speaks of our duty as Americans are worth thinking
about:

"It matters not what your individual politics may be, it is your duty to stand together as Americans
and uphold the hands of the president. Let us not become too partisan. It is all right to maintain a friendly feeling for the country from which you come—you who were not born here—but let us remember that
on the proposition of our relations
with the countries of Europe there is only one party, and that is the American party."

When Governor Phillip said that he spoke for every American, he earned the appreciation of Wisconsin. He builded truer and deeper than he could build on any other issue. These days when deliberate
efforts are being made to line up America in behalf of one or the other
of the warring parties in Europe,
we need to remember that what concerns us is America. The mutual attacks on the president are really attacks on America. And the American people will see this. The politician or advocate who has tried to make America the adjunct of any other nation will find that he has
only stained his record irretrievably.
Governor Phillip will not go wrong
preaching Americanism.

Effects of Poisoned Gas.

(E. Alexander Powell in Scribner's.)
Everywhere lay men who were dead or dying—not from wounds but
from strangulation. The faces of those that were dead were blue and
swollen, like the face of a drowned
man. Those that were still alive
grew their breath in great, choking,
agonizing sobs, as though the effort
to breathe was tearing their very vitals.

I saw them a little later in the hospital, and I shall never forget
the scene: a long line of men were blackened and distorted features, the sweat standing in glistening beads
upon their foreheads as they fought
for breath, heaving, choking, panting, gasping, like fish which have been thrown out upon the bank to
die. Have you ever seen a man
hanged? Well, I have. And that was the way these men were dying,
only slowly, much more slowly. All that was lacking was the rope.

RILEY'S BIRTHDAY.

Just umpty-leven years ago, he came into this world of woe—James Whitcomb Riley, whose song has helped us as we

toiled along, has brightened many
sunless days, and
smoothed for us
our weary ways.
Just umpty-leven
years ago, he
reached this world
that loves him so,
and it is now a
better place, more
fitted for the human race, because
he's lived in it
and sung his lyrics in the Hoosier tongue. Today he eats a birthday lunch with all that gifted Hoosier bunch, whose well-known honors do not fade—Booth Tarkington, and "Abe" and Ade, and Nicholson, and many more, and guests from many a distant shore. If all who love him could be there, to greet the bard beyond compare,
they'd need a banquet hall so great
that it would reach across the state,
and many herds of slaughtered kine,
and seas of mild denatured wine.
But we, obliged to stay away, still celebrate his natal day, and send this wireless note to him, "God bless and keep you, dear old Jim!"

Dishonest Oratory.

Last Sunday in our Religious Notes we quoted from a noted advocate this sentence: "All calls to the weakness of vanity or prejudice or passions of men are dishonest." The sound sense of this quotation ought to be generally understood. A great deal of the oratory is of this kind. Most of the political speeches, jury addresses and street harangues are of this character. One can always tell when they are dishonest by the speaker's manner. If he gets excited, vociferant, stormy, he is very apt
to be dishonest, for he is then appealing to one's prejudices or passion. Generally the man who storms
the most has the least truth to tell.
He tries to win by arousing hate or prejudice. There is too much of this. We one time saw a backwoods preacher foam at the mouth. He reminded us of an animal that was
mad. He ought to have read prayer-fully James 1, 26, as follows: "If any man among you seem to be religious and brideth not his tongue,
but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain." And so is any speaker's who tries to win a suan by getting his prejudice and passion aroused. If our politics
could get rid of such orators, the
country would be better off.—

Profit by Pharaoh's Dream.

All signs point to a fat winter for working men and their families. The employment bureau, which a week
or 10 days ago announced that they
ad called for more men than they
could supply, are saying this week
that the demand continues. Unskilled labor is asking for and receiving 50 and 75 cents a day more than it could command last year, and machinists can get large wages in the metal working industries.

This condition is likely to continue so long as the war lasts. But when peace comes there will be a sudden
cessation of the demand for munitions
of all kinds. The prudent
workman, receiving good wages now,
will therefore manage his affairs in
such a way that when the slack time
comes he will not find himself in want.

the fat and the lean kine when Joseph interpreted it to him. Who

tian king?—Philadelphia Evening

By Way of Reminder.

Wall street's speculation in the
so-called war stocks has not been equaled in reckless fury since the great consolidation craze of 15 years ago.

This movement, like that of 1900,
turns around numbers of independent steel companies and combinations of companies. The enormous inflation in the share values of these concerns proved then to be the preliminary steps in a process of jointly capitalizing the various bubbles
and selling them for solid money to
the dear public in the form of more than 5,000,000 consolidated shares
of stock which at the time had not
a dollar of actual value behind them.

Between those preliminaries and
the present war there are certain striking resemblances in fact as well as in rumor. But in any preparations which may be going on for a killing like that effected through the United States Steel Corporation 13
and 14 years ago, the market and its followers may profitably be reminded that the administration of the Sherman Anti-Trust law is now in other hands.—New York World.

Trivial Annoyances.
It is surprising how trivial are the annoyances which suffice to make some men miserable. A lump of soot falling on a man's linen, a breakfast over-
done, losing a railway train by forty seconds after running himself out of breath, a visit from a bore when he is overwhelmed with cares, the rasp-
ing of his nerves by a hand organ
when he is weary, inclined to headache or trying to sleep; even the want
of a pin or a shirt button flying off at an unlucky moment, as when he is dressing for a dinner party and has
scant time in which to do it—all these are annoyances which sorely try a man's patience and chafe and vex
many a person more than a serious misfortune. Alexander Smith goes so far as to say that if during thirty
years all the annoyances connected
with defalcating shirt buttons alone
could be gathered into a mass and endured at once it would be misery equal
to a public execution.—New York

Water and Pure Water.

Pure water is nothing more or less than a chemical curiosity. Even when distilled it cannot rightly be considered perfectly pure. Mineral matter is the most common foreign substance found in "Adam's ale." This is largely owing to the fact that all water passes
through rock and soil at some time or other. In moderate quantities these mineral salts are quite desirable, as they are particularly needed for our bones and muscles. When water is distilled these mineral substances become detached; hence distilled water is useless for drinking. But if more than a hundred grains of such salts as magnesium or sodium sulphate are contained in a gallon of water it should then be regarded as a mineral beverage rather than a good drinking material. The importance of water can be well realized when we consider that the very elasticity of our muscles, cartilages
and tendons is due to the amount of water that these tissues contain.—Pearson's.

Do Champion Athletes Die Young?

From opinions collected from men
prominent in the athletic world, among them several doctors and surgeons who
have given the subject special study,
it may be concluded that the average
man can play baseball, tennis and basketball with safety until he is forty.
After that age these more vigorous games become a little dangerous, even
to the man in good physical condition. At forty-five, most of the experts agree, golf, croquet, handball, volley ball and medicine ball are more fitting, and, certainly, safer pastimes. The United States public health service dis-
countenances some of the more violent
forms of sport, such as rowing, for instance, even for young men. Long distance running, jumping and pole vault-
ing also are considered extremely exhausting by its experts. It declares, in short, that "champion athletes die
young."—Boston Herald.

A Short Lived Island.

In 1867 a new island was discovered
in the group of the Tonga or Friendly Islands. In 1877 smoke was seen over the shoal. In 1885 the shoal had become a volcanic island more than two miles long and 240 feet high, and a fierce eruption was taking place within it. In 1886 the island had begun to shrink in dimensions. In 1889 its height had diminished one-half, and
the ocean close around it was more than a mile deep. In 1892 the island
rose only about twenty-six feet above
sea level, and in 1898, under the action
of the waves, its complete disappearance was reported.

Birds and Lightning.

Birds are sometimes struck by lightning. Darwin records the case of a wild duck that he saw struck by a bolt while flying. It was killed instantly and fell to the ground. But birds seem to know instinctively that lightning is to be feared. That perhaps is why they seek shelter in thunderstorms. The sudden disappearance of the birds is, indeed, in the country one
of the surest signs of an approaching tempest.

Italics.

Italics are letters formed after the Roman model, but sloping toward the right, used to emphasize words or sentences. They were first used about 1500 A. D. by Manutius, a Venetian printer, who dedicated them to the Italian states; hence the name.

How to Rub Out Wrinkles And Other Beauty Secrets

Most important to the average woman is how to get rid of those tell-tale signs of age—wrinkles and crow's feet.

Much has been written on the subject, but the only treatment worth while is the one that does the work. Any woman can prepare a wrinkle cream in a few minutes that will certainly remove the lines from her face. Women who have tried it pronounce it almost magical in results. It is very simple and easy to prepare. Get from any drug store about two ounces of powdered eptol, dissolve it gradually in half a pint of hot water, then add a tablespoonful of glycerine. This will give you a wrinkle remover that cannot be excelled. Use freely night and morning, and you will soon notice results.

Walsh, the great authority on the hair, says we have much to thank bacteriology in the care of the hair, as it is the little dandruff germ that eats away the roots, causing it to become lifeless, fall out and become thin and scraggly. Any woman with these hair troubles will do well to get from her hairdresser one ounce of beta-quinol. Mix half a pint of water and half a pint of alcohol, add the beta-quinol, and you will have a tonic that will, if used faithfully every night, correct any hair trouble.

The head should be thoroughly washed at least every two weeks to get rid of excess oil, dirt and greasy accumulations. For a clean and healthy scalp, there is nothing that can equal a teaspoonful of eggol dissolved in a cup of hot water. Twenty-five cents' worth of eggol will give you a dozen shampoos. *Fashions?
Why—honestly
I have quit
worrying
about that subject—*

THERE was a time when I used to worry about fashions, when I read all the fashion magazines and all the fashion articles in my daily newspaper. I used to study them and compare them, but I found that the longer I read and the more I studied, the more confused I was as to what the true style tendency would be. You see, each of these writers had made a personal study of the new styles as shown in European style centers, and they had given as best they could the result of their observations. But naturally they could not predict how American manufacturers would adopt those extreme European fashions to meet the demands of American women. In their predictions as to the changes that would be made they were very far from agreeing.

Two years ago, when fashion conditions were even more disturbed than usual and when I scarcely knew what to think the new styles would be, I happened to go past a shop where some new Fall models were being shown and I saw a coat that was just perfectly stunning. It was a PRINTZEISS. I fell in love with it—so much so that I felt I simply could not go without it. I went in and bought it.

When I tried it on at home I found that it violated some of the fashion edicts that the magazine authorities had laid down, but I was so taken with it that I made up my mind that I would wear it anyhow, and do you know, before the season ended the fashion papers and the current style columns of those same magazines had seemingly forgotten all about their earlier predictions and were showing styles just like the one I had bought. So now I don't worry any more. When I need a new coat I simply go down to Carroll's store and select one, after conferring with the garment salespeople who I find, are really well posted on the new styles that will prove to be realities and not mere paper dreams.

There is no need for you to worry about fashions. We've been doing that all our lives. We make it our business to visit different markets to make careful note of all the style tendencies, those developed by European designers and by our own and finally to find just how these styles are being modified to meet requirements of American Womanhood. We find out what the really representative manufacturers are making and purchase from these—for when they have decided upon a style it is safe to count upon that style being good throughout the season. Come in and let us show you some of the Fall styles in PRINTZEISS suits and coats that are going to be very popular this season.

WOODWARD THOUGHT QUICKLY ENOUGH TO SAVE AN EXPENSE

Council Clerk Joseph Woodward is not a member of the Society for Physical Research and therefore is wondering what prompted him to remember an error he made in drawing up an ordinance for publication in local newspapers, at a time when he would have had ample excuse for overlooking it.

It was following the meeting two weeks ago when a bill was passed determining to proceed with the resurfacing of Hudson avenue. It was about this time that the inflammation in Mr. Woodward's foot was causing him excruciating pain.

He finished the work under a serious handicap and left the copy with the printers and then went home, where he was confined for two weeks.

The day after the copy was left at the printing office, Mr. Woodward was seated at home, with his foot elevated on a pile of cushions. He was wondering why life was worth living when there suddenly flashed across his mind, the thought that he

STATE HONORS BIRTHDAY OF HOOSIER POET

SCHOOL CHILDREN AS WELL AS GOVERNOR OF INDIANA
TAKE PART IN EXERCISES

Upon the Occasion of James Whitcomb Riley's Celebration of His Natal Day.

Indianapolis, Oct. 7. — Indiana awoke today for a holiday. It is not a holiday to be celebrated with noise-making and parades, but one to be observed quietly in the home and school. It is James Whitcomb Riley's sixty-second birthday and the Hoosier state is leading the nation in paying homage to the poet.

The climax of the celebration comes tonight in a banquet tendered Mr. Riley by his friends. The guest list includes many distinguished names.

Every school in the state will devote the day to the man whose rhymes have won so many childish hearts. From communities in every section of the country have come assurance that the Hoosier poet will be honored in their locality.

For the past two weeks, Mr. Riley has been showered with letters and telegrams and poems congratulating him on his birthday. The poet reads all of them. His happiness over these tributes is patent to all who see him.

"It is so good to be alive," he said yesterday, after reading a big stack of the messages. "I will try to answer every one of these."

Local newspapers have run columns of poems sent to them expressing the esteem in which Mr. Riley is held.

The day had a beautiful beginning. At the dawn of his natal day, which is being celebrated throughout the nation, a company of forty singers and musicians entered Lackey street and serenaded the poet. A large basket of flowers was placed on his doorstep.

The serenaders, bearing lighted candles, and red torches, marched into Lackey street at midnight. They tiptoed to the Riley gate and formed a circle around the carriage block. An instrumental rendition of "Love's Old Sweet Song," stole out on the autumn air and soon lights began to appear in the poet's old-fashioned red brick house. Two German folk songs followed and the serenade closed with "Good Night," an old lullaby.

Mr. Riley sent word that he had enjoyed the serenade. Wishing him a night of rest, the serenaders left Lackey street as silently as they had come.

Governor Ralston's proclamation designating Mr. Riley's birthday as "Riley Day" and urging all citizens of the state to pay fitting tribute to the sweet singer was heeded. In every school there was a special program of recitations, readings and music. Flags and bunting were hung out everywhere and portraits of the poet were prominent.

Mr. Riley received many callers during the morning. In the afternoon he was the honor guest at a performance called "An afternoon with Riley."

had made an error in the newspaper's copy of the ordinance.

He called the offices by telephone, found that his lunch was correct, gave instructions for the correction of the error and went back to his "enjoyment" of pain.

The error was this. In most ordinances for public improvement, the entire cost of the improvement, "less one-fiftieth thereof" is assessed against the abutting property owners. In cases of repair of public work, such as that in Hudson avenue, half of the amount is paid by the city and half by the abutting property owners. Had this mistake gone uncorrected, the entire improvement legislation would have been invalidated.

Clerk Woodward is now wondering what made him think of this error, when his mind was centered on the pain in his foot.

AUSTRALIA ASKS ASSISTANCE OF EARLE PURINTON

Licking County Young Man Establishing Splendid Reputation by His Efficiency Service.

Edward Earle Purinton, the former Granville man, son of Dr. Daniel B. Purinton who was president of Denison University twenty-five years ago, is achieving great success as director of the New York Independent's Efficiency service.

The Efficiency Press Syndicate of New York City has just issued a folder announcing the appearance of the most important of Mr. Purinton's works of efficiency in sets of five. Permission has been requested to translate a number of these books into French, Japanese, German and other foreign languages. Mr. Purinton is now at work on three new books on efficiency, to be published within a few months.

The Morgantown, W. Va., Post Chronicle published in Dr. Purinton's home town announces that Mr. Purinton is just in receipt of a cablegram from Victoria, Australia, asking Mr. Purinton's co-operation in the reorganization of the Australian government according to modern methods of municipal, industrial and personal efficiency. Requests of a similar nature have been received by Mr. Purinton from officers and members of more than 200 schools and colleges in the United States; from 700 business houses and corporations, and from 500 homes, churches and civic associations. Among these are the Standard Oil Company, the National Cash Register company, the Chicago Northwestern Railway, Yawman & Erbe Manufacturing company, the Russell Sage Foundation, the New York Y. M. C. A., the New York City Federation of Churches, the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the British armies, for whom Lord Kitchener authorized the distribution of 5,000,000 copies of one of Mr. Purinton's efficiency publications. Mr. Purinton's articles and his answers to questions put to him by independent readers are being followed with much interest by Mr. Purinton's old-time friends in this locality. Newark and Granville people are proud of the distinction this Licking county young man is achieving.

BUENA VISTA ST. PAVING PROGRESSES; SIXTH STREET NEXT

The work of paving Buena Vista street is progressing rapidly and the contractor soon will be ready to transfer the concrete gang from that street to Sixth street. The same materials, Tarvia, are being used in each of these two streets.

The concrete foundation in Buena Vista street will soon be finished and this gang of workmen will then be transferred to Sixth street.

Upon this concrete foundation the Tarvia preparation will be placed and the work of mixing this surface material follows the completion of the concrete work. It is hoped that both these streets will be finished before freezing weather sets in.

The work of paving Gay street from Main north to the railroad, is about completed. All the brick has been laid and yesterday the tar filling was being applied.

Much other public work is being done. The Ninth street sewer has been finished. The First street sewer is about completed and it is hoped to get the Hudson avenue resurfacing started soon. It is doubtful if this work can be done before winter, however.

High words often indicate low conversation. In fact, the higher, the lower.

No, Maude, dear; courtesy on the part of the ice man isn't always freezing politeness.

If Coffee Came In Capsules

as its drug, caffeine, is frequently sold, coffee drinkers would wake up to the fact that coffee is not a food but a drug.

Yet in spite of the warnings of reputable physicians, many persons fail to realize the harmful effects of caffeine, coffee's subtle, habit-forming drug. Taken regularly this coffee drug—the frequent cause of nervousness, heart-flutter, headache and other ailments—sooner or later gets its hold.

Look coffee in the face—read what physicians and health experts say: (Names on application.)

"Coffee is a dope and narcotic almost equal to opium. Slowly but surely it gets control of its victim and holds him in its grasp a pitiful, helpless victim."

"Coffee is a drug. Those addicted to its use are drug addicts."

"Some people get the craving for alcohol by first taking tea or coffee." "They (the tea and coffee drugs) are comparable to opium in that they induce a habit, and should be avoided."

Right now, Mr. Coffee Drinker, is the time to find out whether or not coffee has a hold on you. It's simple and easy—quit coffee ten days and use

POSTUM

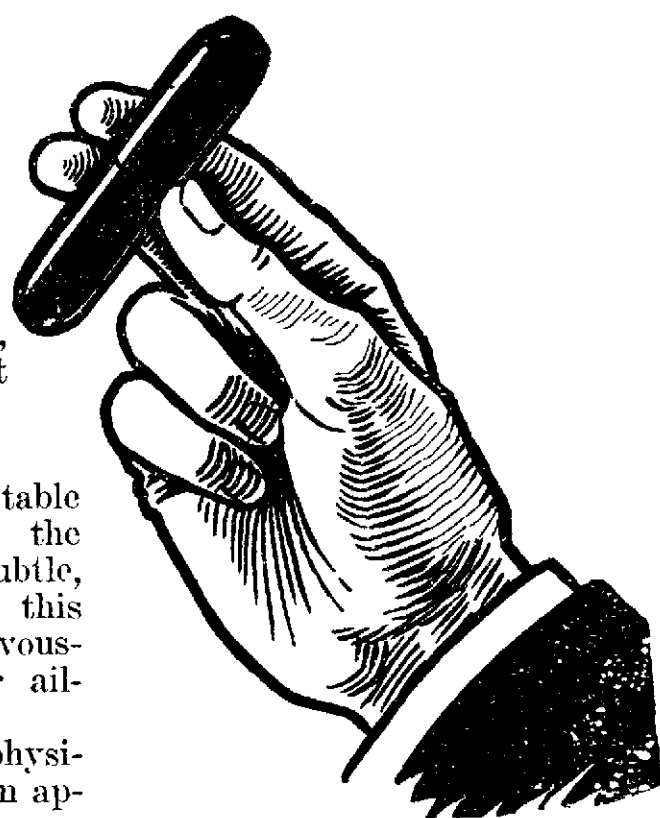

the pure food-drink

Made of wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses, Postum has a delicious coffee-like flavour, yet it contains no drug or other harmful element.

William Allen White came from Emporia, Kas.; Dr. John H. Finley and Colonel George Harvey from New York; Ellery Sedgwick from Boston, and Young F. Allison from Louisville, Ky., to help honor Mr. Riley.

The list of Indiana citizens taking part in the celebration is big. In addition to the members of the committee of arrangements, there were Former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, Senator Kern, Vice President Marshall and others.

The program of the day called for an entertainment in a local theatre in the afternoon and a banquet at which Mr. Riley was to be the guest of honor in the evening. It was expected that the poet would read a new poem at the banquet.

At the entertainment, several of Mr. Riley's poems, including "The Raggedy Man" and "Little Orphan Annie," were set to music by Mr. Ward Stephens. Dancers from Anna Pavlova's company interpreted a number of the verses.

Hundreds who had hoped to attend the banquet this evening will be disappointed. The committee in charge has been compelled to reject scores of appeals for accommodations as there are seats for but four hundred. Former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks will be toastmaster.

The coming of his birthday in October has a peculiar happiness for Mr. Riley, he said the other day. It is his favorite month, as attests in his poem, "Old October." In it he says:

"I love Old October so—
I can't bear to see her go—
Seems to me like I lost some Old-home relative or chum—
'Pearls like sorrows' settin' by
Some old friend 'at sigh by sigh
Was a-passin' out o' sight
Into everlasting night."

James Whitcomb Riley was born at Greenfield, Indiana, October 7, 1853, the son of Captain Reuben A. Riley and Elizabeth Riley. He first began contributions to Indiana papers in 1873.

His dialect poems brought him his greatest fame. His first book appeared under the pen-name, "Joni F. Johnson, of Boone." Among his best known poems are "Little Orphan Annie," "The Raggedy Man," "Leddie Dutch," "Baby," "The Old Swimmer's Hole," "An Old Sweetheart o' Mine," and "How John Quit the Farm."

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 7.—The anniversary of James Whitcomb Riley, the Indiana poet, was observed in the public schools throughout West Virginia today. In a majority of schools the children participated in informal literary programs arranged in his honor.

The practical man quickly appreciates the superiority of

Marietta

Spartan Art Wood Stains

The reason is that they were made BY practical men, FOR practical men. The business of The Marietta Paint & Color Co. developed years ago from a painting and wood finishing firm. The ground work of their success was their thorough knowledge of the NEEDS of painters and wood finishers.

The Marietta laboratories are still in charge of practical men, working out new and always practical products for the use of the trade.

Marietta SPARTAN ART WOOD STAINS are used by the leading furniture, piano and talking machine manufacturers of the continent. They have also been specified in some of the best buildings in the country. They have both quality and economy to recommend them. They produce a first class finish with fewer coats, and they don't fade—not even the mahogany stain. Made in all the leading shades.

SPARTAN ART WALL FINISH—A high grade, germ-proof, washable wall paint. It is an oil paint, works freely, drying hard and flat, allowing ample time to brush out and avoid laps. It possesses all the decorative advantages of calcimine or wall paper with the sanitary features of a fine enamel paint.

SPARTANITE—The white enamel de luxe. Heavy of body, hard, elastic, producing a pure, white, sanitary surface, that will not turn yellow, and will not check or crack.

SPARTANA—The crowning achievement in varnish stains for popular use in the home. Unequaled for finishing floors, wood-work, scuffed furniture.

WEAK WHERE SHE SHOULD BE STRONG.

Whether we sit or walk or stand, we must have poise, to relieve strain, but to give the proper muscular tension for muscle, health and strength. This is simplified by finding the center of gravity and placing the weight where it belongs. We are told in article XXVII., written for the Advocate development series by Anna Louise Shafer.

By Anna Louise Shafer.
(Copyright 1915, by J. Keeley.)
"An exercise is a conscious step toward an ideal; therefore an exercise is a means of progress."
A corrective exercise, one designed to build up the muscles of the body, and through disuse muscular tissue becomes weak and flabby.

The muscles which pass from the shoulder blade to the trunk are subjected to one or other of these conditions in the case of many, many women.

Prolonged bending over a desk, with bad sitting posture, gives one condition of lowered vitality; and absolute lack of use gives another condition of muscular degeneracy—and weak back.

Sit squarely, with the base of the spine touching the back of the chair, with the spine and muscles of back supporting the weight. Thus you have a center of gravity, and if you lean back you are in poise, and if you lean forward you are still in poise. The diaphragm is holding its own, instead of sagging down on the stomach.

In Milady's Boudoir

By Gwen Sears

The arm to be beautiful should have round and flowing lines with no sharpness at the elbows, and should taper gently to a small wrist. Thin arms are always ugly, and require graceful movements to make one forget their thinness. While white arms are considered beautiful, dark complexioned arms may be made more beautiful, if better shaped, from being the color of action.

As much study should be given to the posing of the arms as is given to the carriage of the body or the expression of the face. The habit of holding the elbows away from the sides in a sharp angle while walking or standing, is very unbecoming.

Another bad habit, which many of our women have taken to, is that of crossing the arms over the chest while sitting. Just why this posture is assumed it is hard to say, unless it is contracted because the owner, being aware of her awkwardness, tries to disguise it and does not know what else to do with her arms.

At any rate, the habit certainly not only detracts from feminine grace, causes flinching and discolored arms, but also is responsible for drooping of the shoulders, and hollow chests. There was a time, years ago, when such shoulders were admired, but not today.

Ideals change with each generation. In this particular one, the woman with the strong, athletic shoulders is considered the ideal type. Are you one of these?

ITALIAN POLICY TOWARD BULGARIA LIKE THE ALLIES'

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Turin, Italy, Oct. 6.—(via Paris, Oct. 7.)—Premier Salandra announced at an important cabinet council, according to the Stampa Rome correspondent, that the Italian diplomatic policy in dealing with Bulgaria had been all along in line with that of the allies and would continue to be. He declared that any diplomatic action taken by Italy's allies would be taken also by Italy, and that such action was imminent.

The premier is reported to have asserted his government viewed the Balkan situation calmly, believing it might have the advantage of shortening the war, and bringing about the final success of the allies. He announced that all military measures had been taken on Italy's frontiers, and that impending in the Balkans.

ANOTHER RISE IN CRUDE OIL PRICE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Pittsburg, Oct. 7.—Another advance in the price of crude oil was announced at the opening of the market today. Five cents was added to Pennsylvania Crude bringing it to $1.75; seven cents to Cornish, making it $1.25, and five cents to Somerset, to $1.57. There was no change in Mercer black and Newcastle from $1.26, Cabell $1.30, Ragland, 65c. This adds 3.5 cents a barrel to the price of Pennsylvania Crude over the quotation of three months ago.

How To Get Rid of a Bad Cough

A Home-Made Remedy that Will Do It Quickly, Cheap and Easily Made

If you have a bad cough or chest cold which refuses to yield to ordinary remedies, get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, 50 cents worth, pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Start taking a teaspoonful every hour or two. In 24 hours your cough will be conquered or very nearly so. Even whooping cough is greatly relieved in this way.

The above mixture makes a full pint—a family supply—of the finest cough syrup that money could buy—at a cost of only 54 cents. Easily prepared in 5 minutes. Full directions with Pinex.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup preparation takes right hold of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the dry, hoarse cough, cough in a way that is really remarkable. Also quickly heals the inflamed membranes which accompany a painful cough, and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. Excellent for bronchitis, spasmodic croup and winter coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children like it.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of pure Norway pine extract, rich in gualacal, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex,"—do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Et. Wayne, Ind.

Your Boys and Girls

Happy the parents who can flatter themselves that neither they, nor any of their household, have ever deceived a child unnecessarily and without legitimate cause. Children quickly discover that all that grown-ups do or say is not always truth, and very soon their innate cunning leads them to dissimulation.

Laziness will sometimes lead children to tell untruths, also the fear of being scolded or punished, or deprived of an unexpected treat, but this is generally after a child is three or four years old. It is very often our manner of trying to find out the truth which leads children to dissimulation, dissimulation and falsehood.

"Did you do this?" or "Who has done this?" asked in a threatening voice and with severe looks, provoke an answer which may save from punishment, or at any rate may put it off, and so the child tells a lie.

GERMANS USING NEW KIND OF GAS IN THE CHAMPAGNE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Oct. 7.—A new kind of gas apparently is being used by the Germans in the fighting in the Champagne. Details regarding its effects were given Dr. Lucien Dumont by sufferers he was called to attend in Paris hospitals. According to the written statements of three men who fought respectively at Souain, Suippes and Moranvillers, they were surrounded for a few seconds by clouds of deep green gas of a rather pleasant odor. These men asserted that soldiers who wore no masks soon were suffocated while those with masks lost consciousness for varying periods.

DESTROYERS HAVE SEPARATE WAR GAME ON ATLANTIC COAST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Boston, Oct. 7.—While the main part of the Atlantic fleet is engaged in war maneuvers along the whole Atlantic coast, a detachment of the torpedoed destroyers will be detailed today to participate in a mimic attack on the coast defenses of this city. This "war game" was distinct from the larger operation.

"On the theory that the 'enemy' had landed an army north of Boston, and was preparing for a direct naval assault on the harbor defenses, the various forts were called upon to summon all their powers of defense. Buoy channel markers and light-house illuminations were theoretically moved to hamper the approach of the hostile fleet.

Music

(By Joe Miller.)

Dr. Minor C. Baldwin, a celebrated organist of international reputation, delighted a small audience at Plymouth Congregational church last evening with a concert that for musical merit probably has not been equaled in Newark since the appearance of Clarence Eddy at the Second Presbyterian church more than a year ago.

Such an opportunity as that given last night should have filled the church, but alas, such was not the case. It would have been so had a small proportion only of the crowds that waited in front of moving picture shows for admission, gone to the concert. However, this is not the time nor place to quarrel with those whose taste along the line of instructive entertainment does not take the best of music into consideration.

And Dr. Baldwin certainly did give his audience some of the best. His choice of program could have been improved upon in some respects for a popular recital. For instance the German school predominated overwhelmingly, the only exceptions being two of the player's own compositions and the Semiramide overture by Rossini, considered by many to possess more technical difficulties than the better known and more brilliant "William Tell." There were three Bach numbers including the G-minor fugue, and a Toccata. One of these could easily have been left out and supplied by a number by Saint-Saens or other Frenchman while one from an American composer could have taken the place of the Schuetz number to the program's betterment.

Dr. Baldwin's style was instantly convincing as he began the first number. It is a showy piece full of difficult runs which are taken up upon each manual including the pedals. His work upon the pedal manual did not appear clean cut, as if he was unfamiliar with some mechanical peculiarity. This was probably true as there was an annoying rattle which may have been due to some need of repairs or adjustment.

The "Reverie" was a very pretty composition and fitted well between the Toccata and Fugue. The piece was written for use of the reeds almost exclusively, and with the flute predominating, and was played with the assurance of an author's interpretation. His "Consolation" was also enjoyable, its characteristics being the resolving of many suspensions into some rather unexpected but thoroughly pleasing harmonies.

The great fugue was played with a technical precision that would mark Dr. Baldwin as a master organist. This composition is one that calls into play every quality of musicianship for its rendition up to the standard which discriminating audiences demand. Last night a discriminating audience heard the Bach counterpoints played with an ease of execution and intelligence of comprehension that met with its entire approval. In fact an encore was given this piece, which spoke well for both the audience and performer.

Dr. Baldwin responded with a sprightly selection from Mozart's "Magic Flute," which again showed his predilection for the reed organ.

The Hayden number was as thoroughly enjoyed as any other on the set program, probably more so. The menuet motif was plainly announced and then carried through many phases, developed and reproduced with consummate skill and perfect technique.

The Pilgrims' Chorus was rendered in accordance with the idea conveyed by an understanding of the opera, Tannhauser. The effect of distance is given by using the swell organ. The gradual approach of the band of pilgrims chanting their beautiful hymn is conveyed to the mind by hearing the crescendo. The great organ is coupled to the swell the heavy diapasons are added and the hearer can easily imagine the appearance of the penitents before him, as the magnificent burst of glorious harmony from the full organ peals forth. Dr. Baldwin for his finale played "God be with You Till We Meet Again," with variations, the effect upon the audience being very impressive at the conclusion.

Mrs. Chandler Tucker sang in a manner that called forth many comments that she had never appeared to better advantage nor in better voice.

The Plymouth church choir sang Kipling's "Lost We Forget," set to De Koven's music and called a Recessional, and it was sung well.

Mrs. H. R. Rogers was the capable accompanist of the evening.

The program follows:
1. Toccata—Pedal Solos. Bach
2. Reverie Baldwin
3. Great G-Minor Fugue (Giant) Bach
4. Consolation Baldwin
5. Sonata Schuetz
(a) Allegro Moderato
(b) Pastorale
(c) Allegro
6. Adagio Bach
7. Adagio and Menuet, Hayden, from C-Major Symphony.
8. Overture, Semiramide Rossini
9. Pilgerchor (Wagner) from Tannhauser.

The Cecilian Music club of Utica met October 4 with Mrs. L. S. Schenke, hostess. The following program was rendered:

Piano, "Taps" (Engelmann)—Messdames J. A. Cree and J. G. Montross.
Vocal, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" (Tate)—Mrs. Roy Dennison.
Piano, "La Redemption" (Hofer)—Mrs. Clark Campbell.
Vocal, "A Rose Dream" (Landsberg)—Mrs. J. G. Montross.
Piano, "Poet and Pensant" (Suppe)—Messdames Homer McFadden and Virgil Evans.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.
"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought without producing any after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of medical origin, which is a no habit-forming constituent in 'Santal' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestines, and at such small cost no one need be deprived of any drug—Santal's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallowness or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, Santal is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as is any other remedy known for constipation, is harmless and quick acting. It is called formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.
"Santal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only take about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to insure that there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of weariness and languor, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santal tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned."

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "Santal tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize the advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.
Santal tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "calomel habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of wear and tear, they violently acting purgatives. Any laxative is another reason for the popularity of Santal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many attendant ills, has finally been found."
